BUSINESS MEN

OBJECT TO SCHOOL.

Franklin Avenue Merchants Will Protest Against Sale of the Blind Institution Property.

Business men and property owners in the vicinity of Nineteenth street and Franklin avenue yesterday afternoon, after organizing an association to be known as the Franklin Avenue Business Men's Improvement Society, decided to protest against the erection of a city schoolhouse on the block now occupied by the Missouri School for the Blind.

The Board of Education at its meeting last week decided to purchase a building which had made arrangements for the purchase of the Blind School property at Nineteenth and Morgan streets and to erect a city schoolhouse on the ground to relieve the crowded schools already in the district.

Alex. J. Tenn, one of the members of the new society and a member of the drug firm of H. J. Tenn & Son, No. 192 Franklin avenue, last night gave the reasons for the opposition to the Board of Education's plan, saying:

"I have been here on Franklin avenue twenty-four years, and all of that time, and longer, the block between Nineteenth and Nineteenth streets has been a dark spot because of the Missouri School for the Blind."

"Franklin avenue is known for its many retail business houses, and it is the desire of the merchants of this new society to preserve it as such. We consider it a better plan, if the hands of persons who will erect store buildings and build flats above them, to erect a schoolhouse which simply be a blot on the landscape."

"We will take the matter up with the Board of Education at its next meeting, believing they will be glad to give us a hearing. As between the two schools, the business men would prefer the Blind School, which needs supplies of all kinds and buys many of them from the business men of the vicinity."

The new society was organized at the office of Edward Goedde, the latter, at No. 355 Franklin avenue. It is intended to secure a large membership of the best people in the vicinity and promote the general welfare of the business men of Franklin avenue.

John O'Donnell called the meeting to order. Edward Goedde, who is president, and George A. Davies, secretary, presided. The committee appointed to draw up resolutions on the school question consisted of Edward Goedde, John O'Donnell, Thomas Paffenbarger, Alex. J. Tenn and George A. Davies.
